

Title: TotalJobs' Graduate Zone exceeds 10,000 live jobs with flying colours
Date: 30 January, 2008

The UK's biggest graduate recruitment offering, the totalJobs.com Graduate Zone, continues to grow from strength to strength now offering more than 10,000 live graduate jobs per month.

Launched in August 2006, the Graduate Zone has quickly become the largest graduate recruitment marketplace generating over 156,000 job applications from over 62,000 unique users and now boasting a huge 10,000 plus live jobs per month, which is more than any other UK competitor offering.

The Zone's success comes as no surprise given totalJobs.com commitment to providing a dedicated graduate recruitment offering that matches informed candidates with graduate employers.

Mike Fetters, totalJobs.com Graduate Zone Commercial Director said the Zone imbues the dynamic nature of the online recruitment industry and successfully continues to balance delivering response to advertisers and nurturing the graduate jobseeker.

"We have created a Graduate marketplace where employers have access to a rich pool of candidates and can engage with these graduate jobseekers on a personal level.

"TotalJobs Graduate Zone's unique appeal; is in its user friendly layout, design and functionality and most importantly its reach into this short-supply big-demand jobseeking community. We understand that graduates and under-graduates need a job yesterday and that they like guidance on the jobs that they are best suited to. Our recruiters continue to bank on the Zone to deliver a rich supply of quality hires", Mike Fetters said.
